

Imagine

waking up on a Saturday morning, pouring that first cup of coffee, opening the backdoor, and stepping out...

Do your feet land on the patio you've been dreaming about for the past three summers but never managed to build...it is harder than it looked on that show? Or a well manicured and healthy lawn...well I mowed it last week but it could use it again and is that bare spot getting worse?!? Or do you scamper across the yard and settle into your favorite hammock under those nice, big trees....hmmn if one of those dead limbs decides to fall will it hit me?...it is a little windy out here today...maybe I should go back inside!!?

Yikes! Don't escape from your own backyard. Let your mind and body rest at ease.
